Centre for Contemporary Studies invites you to a talk on Art and Technology

Speaker: Prof. Sanil V.

Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi

Venue: New CCS premises (Former TIFR Mathematics Building), IISc
Date: Thursday, 10th April; Time: 4pm
Tea/Coffee will be served at 3:30 pm

Please note the new venue

It might seem that no two domains of human activity could be so far apart as art and technology. Technology is often seen as application of science to meet human needs. Aesthetic judgement is expected to be disinterested and free of any concern for purpose and utility. Technology, it is believed, establishes a manipulative relationship with outer nature whereas art preserves a free relationship with the inner nature. This talk will critically examine this dichotomy between science and technology on one side and art on the other.
