Session 15(A): Scientific method and the objectivity question

Prof. Shefali Moitra
Retired Professor, Dept. of Philosophy,
Formerly Director, School of Women's Studies, Jadavpur University

Session 15(B): Everyday insults, seductions and challenges in the contemporary structuring of gender and childhood relations: some implications for feminist antiracist analysis

Prof. Erica Burman
Professor of Psychology and Women's Studies at Manchester Metropolitan University, UK, and Chair of the Psychology of Women Section of the British Psychological Society

ABSTRACTS:
Session 15(A): This session looks at the ways in which feminists have identified three levels of subjectivity in scientific method and scientific practice: (a) at the level of hypothesis formation, (b) at the level of hypothesis testing, (c) at the level of application.

Session 15(B): This session draws on gender and cultural critiques of developmental psychology to address current configurations of the child-woman.

Saturday, 15th November, 2 pm
New CCS Seminar Hall, IISc
All are cordially invited
Tea/Coffee and Snacks at about 3:30 pm

URL: http://ces.iisc.ernet.in/hpg/ragh/ccs/Course02/